This is yet another Crossover pattern. We see 9 Day EMA and 18 Day EMA crossover here. We see how it creates great entry and exit signals in trending markets. We also see that these do not work in sideways markets. We also see that the signals are not too delayed to act upon. As a result, we see that these crossovers are not not lagging. Now whether or not do they fit our trading system, we will back test the same and understand if it is systematically performing well or not.
