

Source - Trading View

Here we see a sideways channel. The support and resistance lines are sideways and parallel. We are comfortable with a breakout in any direction over here. In the given example, there is no such breakout from the sideways channel. As a result, we cannot enter any trade in the channel shown below.