

9

MARKING TOOLS

We will also need marking tools to mark our thoughts that led to a certain decision. These tools also come in handy to create custom lines and shape for better analysis and of the patterns that enable better decision making. These tools are general and do not apply to any specific method of technique. We can use them in general wherever we find it suitable.

