

In this book, we will talk about tried and tested methods and tools that have been in use for a very long period of time. We will learn to use these tools and put them together to create a profitable trading system. A trader's success in the market is determined by the effort put into the creation and execution of the trading system and the degree of discipline.

EFFORTS

DISCIPLINE

