

These screens allow us to identify companies that are not only financially stable and growing but also have strong market performance, providing valuable insights for potential investment opportunities. By analysing companies through these lenses, we aim to build a diversified portfolio comprising stocks with strong fundamentals and promising growth prospects.

The initial query yielded a vast list of 746 companies, which is too extensive for practical analysis. To refine the results, we can redesign the query to meet our specific requirements, thus obtaining a more manageable list of companies.
