

By visiting screener.in and accessing its screener tool, users can filter companies based on specific criteria, such as ‘capacity expansion.’

20%

Return on Equity (ROE) of more than 20%

For instance, if you're interested in companies that have recently expanded their capacity, you can utilize this feature to generate a list of such companies. This screening process relies solely on financial data reported by these companies.

You can customize your search based on your preferences. For example, you might want to find companies with a Return on Equity (ROE) of more than 20% and revenue growth exceeding 10%. By inputting these criteria and running the query, screener.in will provide you with a list of relevant companies meeting your specified conditions.
