

DINOSAUR NATIONAL MONUMENT

In the United States, Dinosaur National Monument, on the border between Utah and Colorado, has been the site of huge numbers of fossilized dinosaur finds. An exposed wall of sandstone is on display there; it contains around 1,500 fossilized dinosaur bones dating back to between 155 and 148 million years ago.

