

>> “C” stretch

5 Still lying on your back, reach your arms up beyond your head on the floor. Take one wrist and, keeping your shoulders against the floor, inhale and pull the wrist toward the opposite side, sliding your upper body slightly along the floor in the same direction.

6 At the same time, cross the leg opposite the held wrist over the other leg, and slide your legs in the same direction. This adds an extra stretch and helps to make a letter “C” with your body. Stay, inhale, and tense your abdominal muscles, then exhale and lengthen into the “C” shape. Hold for 4 breath cycles. Lengthen and release, move back to the center, and repeat on the other side. Thump the thighs to release the lower back. Repeat on both sides, then thump the thighs one more time.
