

SIEGE WARFARE

This artist's view of an Ottoman siege in 1529 depicts heavy artillery bombarding Vienna's walls. Such siege guns fired projectiles weighing 18–24lb (8–11kg) over a range of about 1 mile (1.6km). In reality, though, the Ottomans had to abandon their heavy guns and instead used light artillery in their siege, which ultimately failed.

